united states

Dear Friends,

2006 was a transformative year for the United States office of the World Society for the Protection of Animals (WSPA). Since becoming Executive Director in March of last year, we have increased the scope of our activities to help animals tremendously.

In 2006, 146 organizations joined with WSPA to become Member Societies, bringing our total global network to over 747. WSPA is proud to facilitate the world's largest network of animal welfare organizations. Through this network, we help to develop and share best practice for solving animal welfare problems. By working together, we can pool resources, support each other during times of emergency and ensure that we are working most effectively for the animals we serve.

We have also increased the amount of program work we do in the United States. In 2006, we focused our efforts on ending the cruel bear bile industry in Asia and also dedicated ourselves to ensuring that hard-won protections granted by the International Whaling Commission remain intact. We also worked to improve the lives of animals used in factory farming.

All of this growth is part of a very deliberate plan to increase the effectiveness and scope of WSPA in the United States. However, none of this would be possible without our supporters. To all of you who have joined with us, and encouraged us to grow and achieve more for the animals, thank you.

You are truly changing lives. So many animals have been saved from disease, cruelty and neglect because of your compassion, advocacy and contributions. Animals have been spared from a life of suffering because you cared enough to help us institute programs to educate their owners, provide free veterinary services and campaign for greater legal protection for animals all over the world.

In 2006, the DeMille Foundation contributed to WSPA's mission with a significant gift and multiyear commitment. Board member Cecilia DeMille Presley is a long-time supporter of animal welfare, and she prefers to give unrestricted gifts, given her strong faith in WSPA's work.

Perhaps no one had a greater faith in the value of WSPA's work than Frances Velay, who was one of our staunchest supporters for over 20 years. I was saddened to learn of Miss Velay's passing in January of this year. However, I count myself fortunate that I was able to visit with her in 2006, and saw firsthand her impressive passion for helping animals. Her generosity accomplished wonderful things.

I hope you will continue to support WSPA as we provide even more services to help animals all around the globe. I look forward to meeting more of WSPA's supporters in the year ahead. Your gifts and advocacy are helping us to make tremendous strides. I deeply appreciate your support and your belief that together, we can change the world for animals.

Sincerely,

Allan Kornberg, MD
Executive Director, WSPA USA
